INDEPENDENCE DAY

GREETINGS from Mayor John Capoccia

My best wishes to all as we celebrate Independence Day! Sierra Madre always does it in grand style - our Fourth of July parade and celebrations are second to none in participation and enthusiasm!

Let's take a minute to reflect on the momentous occasion which we're celebrating. Perusing the internet, I found the following on the PBS website - It's an excerpt from the last letter ever written by Thomas Jefferson, the great visionary and founding father who drafted the Declaration of Independence. Jefferson's remarks were written on the eve of the 50th anniversary of the birth of our nation:

"May it be to the world, what I believe it will be ... the signal of arousing men to burst the chains ... and to assume the blessings and security of self-government. That form, which we have substituted, restores the free right to the unbounded exercise of reason and freedom of opinion. All eyes are opened, or opening, to the rights of man. ...For ourselves, let the annual return of this day forever refresh our recollections of these rights, and an undiminished devotion to them.'

With that, let's connect with our neighbors, our fellow citizens, and celebrate the 239th anniversary of the greatest nation in the history of mankind and revel in it's incredible accomplishments. Let's be thankful that we live in such a country, and a very special city, Sierra Madre, the "Village of the Foothills". Happy 4th to all!

FOURTH OF JULY

SIERRA MADRE'S

For almost 50 years the Sierra Madre Community joined together in celebration of the great American tradition with music, picnics, games and the ever popular 4th of July Parade. Residents and guests crowd Sierra Madre Boulevard to watch youngsters on their patriotic bikes stroll down the route along side hometown heroes like the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team and Sierra Madre Fire Department. The Official Sponsor of the 2015 Parade is The Kensington. The Kensington-Sierra Madre is an assisted living and memory care residence in the heart of Sierra Madre, along the parade route. The parade as in year's past will feature local dignitaries such a Congresswoman Judy Chu, Assemblymember Chris Holden, Supervisor Michael Antonovich and members of the Sierra Madre City Council and this year will include Special Guest and Triple Crown Jockey Victor Espinosa.

This year the Sierra Madre 4th of July Committee is pleased to honor Nina and Clem Bartolai as the 2015 Fourth of July Parade Grand Marshal. "The Grand Marshal is a person or persons whose efforts over a long period of time has been beneficial to the community of Sierra Madre. The title of Grand Marshal is intended to honor a person or persons' volume of work, dedication and overall enhancements to our community." Nina & Clem are the perfect examples of this. These two Sierra Madreans embody exactly what the Grand Marshal criteria is for the 4th of July. Between the two of them over 40 years they have dedicated thousands of hours to make sure Sierra Madre is a great place to live, work and play. Nina & Clem are leading by example living the Sierra Madre spirit everyday, Sierra Madreans that make a difference.

Additionally, the Committee is proud to be recognizing soon to be Sierra Madre 2nd grader Nate Fulford, age 6 for his winning t-shirt design entry for this year's 4th of July shirts. Nate and his parents will be rolling with Sierra Madre's Fire Department at the close of the parade. Wave and thank Nate was a job well done. Shirts will be for sale in the park for just $10. All proceeds benefit the Sierra Madre 4th of July.

On the morning of July 4th folks are asked to hit the streets for the 5th Annual Spero Foundation's Fire Cracker Fun Run. Shotgun start at 8:00 - 9:30 am (check in 7:00 - 7:45 am) in Kersting Court. This unofficial 5K Fun Run is geared for the entire family to enjoy - although untimed a clock is provided. All runners and walkers of all ages welcome. Walkers with strollers and dogs on leashes are encouraged to participate as this is a true community event! Registration is available online at www.cityofsierramadre. com/onlineregistration. The cost is $26.00 per entry regardless of age and you can still register. All participants will receive a custom 2015 Firecracker Fun Run medal! Also as a new twist- this year there will be awards for the "Best-Showing" of RED, WHITE & BLUE- so show your support for the Stars and Stripes. We highly encourage everyone to dress up and show their patriotism with the most creative outfit possible.

Immediately, following the 5K is the ANNUAL 4TH OF JULY PARADE which kicks off at the corner of Sierra Madre Blvd. and Sunnyside Avenue at 10 am sharp! Parade travels down Sierra Madre Blvd to Sierra Vista Park where the party keeps going.

The after-parade Community picnic & Celebration starts at 11:00 am with featured Music from the Wabash Wailers. Sierra Madre Pool will be open for FREE and the highlight of the afternoon starting at 12:30 pm are the games with the park with the ladies of Civic Club. Wanna throw water balloons at your friends, or challenge your folks to a threelegged race or sack race. This is the place to be. There will also be a Kids Zone, food and beer garden. (left games in the park)

To assist visitors in getting around there is a FREE SHUTTLE on the 4th from 12:00 - 2:15 pm to and from the Community Picnic at Sierra Vista Park. Stops on Sierra Madre Blvd @ Sunnyside, Memorial Park, Baldwin & Sierra Vista Park.

For more information or to donate to support the activities of the Sierra Madre 4th of July visit www.sierramadre4thofjuly.com. The volunteers of the Sierra Madre 4th of July Committee extends our gratitude to all the members of the Sierra Madre community for their generosity, support and donations. Every penny counts and this event could not happen without you. Thank you.

BIG CHANGES AT SIERRA MADRE'S LLAGE INTERNET RADIO STATION:

The Board of Directors of Village Vine Online has decided to move the organization in a new direction. In keeping with our mission of community service, we are discontinuing 24/7 live audio streaming. In order to better serve the community, our focus will be on providing live audio and video webcasts and podcasts of community events, podcasts of hosted shows homegrown here in Sierra Madre, video and audio webcasts and podcasts of community sports events, and, by the end of the summer, we will present a community blog, with guest host bloggers rotating every few months.

CITIZEN WEBCASTERS: Part of our new approach is to utilize "citizen webcasters" living here in town. We are now actively recruiting people who can attend public events, and, utilizing equipment as simple as their smart phones, webcast those events through the Village Vine web site. Contact us at hostvi@yahoo.com if you would like to volunteer. Training will be provided.

CITIZEN PODCASTERS: We are looking for podcasters who might like to share their home-grown podcasts on the Village Vine web site. Subjects for podcasts could include original music, gardening, cars, dogs, water conservation, sports, etc. The subject matter for potential podcasts is only limited to the degree the community might have interest in it. Don't you love seeing flags flying all over town? So many houses have been decorated with red, white and blue bunting. Looks super! We're certainly doing our part, us Sierra Madreans, to celebrate with pomp and parade, and ours will be spectacular as usual. Let's skip the bonfires! We look forward to seeing our VFW guys and Grand Marshals, Nina and Clem Bartolai. Our Mayor, John Capoccia will be waving at the crowd, along with the rest of the city council. My favorite is always the Sierra Madre City College float. All the Boy and Girl Scouts, the teams, bands, classic cars. Our parade is always such a fun event. We won't miss it and hope you didn't either. Rumor has it that Triple Crown Winner, Victor Espinoza, will be riding in the parade...but probably not aboard American Pharoah.

We've been invited to a couple of really nifty events but the one we're picking is the barbeque at our daughter, Patti's, and son-in-law, Dave's, house. I'm bringing potato salad. Potato salad has been in my culinary repertoire for about fifty years and, fortunately, most of my family like my version. It's a classic summer dish and most everybody has their secret ingredient. Me, too, and I'm not telling.

There are many ways to wind up with a big bowl of potato salad. I do the old fashioned hard boiled eggs, pickle relish, onions, potatoes, celery salt and seed, pepper, dill, mustard, mayonnaise, a dash of 1000 Island dressing and refrigerate for a couple of days before the event so everything gets a chance to get acquainted and develop flavor. I've got dozens of potato salad recipes from magazines and various newspaper cooking pages, but I'm afraid there will be mutiny if I deviate from the old familiar salad we all know and love.

Several years ago, my live-in potato salad aficionado, John, and I went to Greece with some friends and some other nice folks who had chartered a yacht which came fully equipped with a very handsome captain who came to dinner each night wearing an impeccable white uniform with much gold braid. Dinner, by the way, was served on beautiful china with linen tablecloth, napkins, and a daunting array of silverware. Our Captain was charming and really knew his islands, many of which we visited. There were crew members who ran the boat, cleaned our cabin... and a chef. Oh, our chef! His galley, in full view of everyone at all times, was the size of a computer workstation. He created wonders in there, baked fresh yeast bread and cinnamon rolls every day and omelets so light you had to hold them down. We were served fish so fresh it was still wiggling. And potato salad. He made potato salad that was so simple, so easy, so delicious. Small red potatoes, chopped scallions, chopped egg, capers, and Greek olive oil. He only used Greek olive oil and was openly scornful of anything from Italy. His potato salad was Blog: www.authordeanne.com served warm and I have never once had the courage to try it, feeling that my weak attempt would be sort available there... of like trying to duplicate Michelangelo's David with Whatever you do this July 4th weekend, be sure you have a great time with people you love, people who enjoy food, laughter, each other, and maybe you can sit out somewhere and see fireworks bursting in the sky. Put your feet in the water, have another hot dog and delight in every minute. Somewhere along the way, be sure to remember that freedom isn't free. It has been bought and paid for at great cost by people who gave all.

SIERRA MADRE POLICE BLOTTER

During the week of Sunday, June 21st, to Sunday, June 28th, the Sierra Madre Police Department responded to approximately 300 calls for service.

Monday, June 22nd

At 11:14 am, Sierra Madre Police responded to the 400 block of Fairview Avenue regarding a disturbance report. Upon arrival, Officers were informed by the resident that her son had damaged her bedroom door then locked himself in his room. She feared he was damaging more property in his room because she could hear loud crashing noises. She stated the disturbance resulted after her son became upset after inquiring about new locks on his bedroom door, since he felt people were going into his room and stealing his possessions. When she informed her son that she would not change his locks, he became upset so she then went into her bedroom and locked the door. The son then began banging on her door, ultimately breaking it. He then locked himself in his room and she called the police for assistance. When Officers instructed the man to open his door, he refused. The woman provided a key to open the door, and as Officers entered the man attempted to close the door to keep the Officers out. Ultimately Officers were able to make entry and detain the suspect safely and without incident. The woman requested a private persons arrest for the act of vandalism. The man was arrested and booked at Pasadena Jail.

Thursday, June 25th

At 7:57 am, Sierra Madre Police responded to the 300 the Pasadena Superior Court for filing.

block of West Sierra Madre Blvd regarding a vandalism report. Upon arrival, Officers were informed by a small business manager that earlier that morning when she arrived at the location, she observed graffiti on the back wall of the business as well as on the trash dumpster. She stated that the day before when she left the location at 6:00 pm, there was no graffiti. Estimated cost of damage was set at about $150. This case has been forwarded to the Detective Bureau.

Friday, June 26th

At 10:12 pm, Sierra Madre Police responded to Santa Anita Canyon Road regarding two intoxicated males with a dog attempting to break one of the locks off the gate at the location. Officers were informed by the reporting party that while she was waiting to be released from behind the gate when a vehicle pulled up behind her. She stated two males with a dog exited the vehicle and began walking around the area and appeared to be intoxicated. At one point one of the men attempted to force open the lock by hitting it with a rock, while the other suspect and the dog left the area. Upon arrival, Officers discovered one of the suspects standing next to the gate. While Officers questioned the suspect, they were overcome by the odor of an unknown intoxicant. The suspect stated to Officers that he had drank a lot of alcohol prior. Officers arrested the suspect for public intoxication. A system check informed Officers that the suspect also had three outstanding warrants from the Los Angeles Police Department. This case has been forwarded to

ADVISORY: LOOK BEFORE YOU LOCK! NEVER LEAVE A CHILD OR PET INSIDE A PARKED CAR - NOT EVEN FOR A MINUTE!

Dear Mountain Views News,

Tragically, a 3-year-old child was left in a car on Father's Day in the City of Pomona and ultimately died from over heating. This type of tragedy is preventable and an important topic throughout the year, but even more so with temperatures heating up.NEVER leave a child or pet inside a parked car, Not Even for a Minute! This video (link below) from Safe Kids USA demonstrates how quickly temperatures can rise inside a vehicle. Even with windows cracked, temperatures will rise well above outside temps creating a dangerous environment inside the vehicle.

LOOK Before You Lock! No matter what the errand or drive, look around, check the back seat... never leave your child or pet inside the car. Not Even for a Minute!

Should you find a child or pet inside a parked vehicle, call the local police, or dial 911 if they appear in distress.

RECORD-BREAKING CROWD AT HISTORIC ARCADIA ELKS LODGE EVENT ARCADIA FORMER MAYOR AND ELKS FOUNDER JIM HELMS AT ARCADIA CHAMBER MIXER

ARCADIA, CA (June 29, 2015) - A record-breaking crowd of 157 individuals attended the Arcadia Chamber of Commerce's mixer/ ribbon cutting for the Arcadia Elks Lodge 2025 on Thursday, June 23. A good time was had by all. And good business too – A handful of first-timers at the Lodge signed up to be members of the civic group.Arcadia Chamber CEO Scott Hettrick, who served as Master of Ceremonies for the evening, noted that the Arcadia Elks were formed in 1957 by former Arcadia Mayor Jim Helms, a lawyer who was also recently presented a Business Icon tribute. Scott introduced an emotional Helms, who received loud applause. Many attendees were setting foot in the spacious lodge for the first time.

Current Exalted Ruler of the Elks, Robert DiGioia, said the Elks is a national organization serving our nation's Veterans, youth and the local community. The local Elks Lodge puts on a number of big events each year including serving 600 meals to our veterans and providing them with gifts during the Christmas holiday. They also support scouting and are greatly involved in drug awareness.

Scott also noted that the Elks national organization is nearly 150 years old and is responsible for getting Congress to declare June 14 an annual Flag Day.

The ribbon cutting portion of the event featured the presentation of a certificate from Mayor Pro Tem Roger Chandler on behalf of the City of Arcadia. Councilman Chandler thanked Jim for all of his hard work over the years in founding the Elks Lodge and congratulated all members of the Elks for all that they do for our community. Arcadia Chamber of Commerce President Andrew active in the community for decades and being a member of the 2025 for more information.

About the City of Arcadia

Nestled in the foothills of the San Gabriel Mountains, Arcadia is an 11.38 square mile community with a population of just over 56,000. Located approximately 20 miles east of downtown Los Angeles, Arcadia is known for combining small-town charm with the conveniences and amenities of a mid-size city. Arcadia is a full-service charter city governed by a five-member City Council, elected at large. Recognized for exceptional education and recreation opportunities and beautiful neighborhoods, Arcadia is also defined as the "Community of Homes" and has twice been designated the "Best City in California in which to Raise Kids" by

HISTORIC DEPOT RFP ISSUANCE PENDING

During the past several months, staff has been working to develop an overall plan for addressing the adaptive reuse of the Historic Depot. A key component of that plan has centered on the possibility of selling the facility to a developer / user, with the condition that the new owner revitalize and restore the facility in a manner consistent with the City's vision for the Station Square area. To help make the economics of the project work, the City does have restricted funding that must be used this calendar year that are applicable towards upgrading the Historic Depot facility. We have spoken with a number of development and restaurant interests regarding the site, and we do believe that the overall facility would best integrate into the Station Square area as a restaurant use of some sort. To that end, we have been working to develop an overall RFP packet, which includes preliminary architectural concept designs. We plan on finalizing the overall RFP within the next 2-3 weeks, and we will of course keep everyone informed as to our progress on this project moving forward.

CANYON PARK AND HILLSIDE WILDERNESS PRESERVE AREAS SET TO BE CLOSED JULY 3-5, 2015

After a thorough review of the potential fire dangers during the upcoming 4th of July weekend, Canyon Park and the Hillside Wilderness Preserve will be closed on July 3-5, 2015. Among the issues that have been identified by our Fire Department as reasons for the weekend closure include typical 4th of July activities, expected high temperatures, low humidity, and the fires that are burning in the

LIBRARY SET TO BE CLOSED BETWEEN JULY 2-5, 2015

Just a quick note to let everyone know that in preparation for and clean-up of the City's annual 4th of July Concert and Fireworks Show, the Library will be closed between July 2-5, 2015. Normal operations at the Library will resume on Monday, July 6, 2015.

STATION SQUARE PAVING UPDATE

The road paving portion of the overall Station Square Project was initiated this past week. Our construction crews worked around the clock in an effort to keep the project on schedule, and there were a few residents who raised concerns regarding the night-time paving work and the noise associated with the construction activity. The Monrovia Police Department and our Public Services Department worked together to ensure that all impacted residents were provided with relocation options until the night-time construction work was completed, and many thanks to everyone for their patience with the City given the traffic, residential, and business impacts that have resulted from our Station Square Project!

MT. SIERRA COLLEGE UPDATE

Last week, representatives from Mt. Sierra College met with City staff and informed us of their operational plans. After considering a variety of potential locations, it appears that Mt. Sierra College is now looking to lease around +/- 25,000 square feet of space in the Monrovia Technology Campus, located at the south-west corner of Mountain Avenue and Royal Oaks Drive. Based on our discussions with Mt. Sierra representatives, they are hoping to sign a lease to occupy the new facility in the near future, and if all goes according to plan, they hope to move into the new facility by the end of this current calendar year. We will continue to monitor this situation moving forward.

4TH OF JULY CONCERT AND FIREWORKS SHOW

Just a quick reminder that the City of Monrovia's renowned 4th of July Concert and Fireworks Show is scheduled to take place in Library Park (321 South Myrtle Avenue) on Saturday, July 4, 2015. After saving seats for the Fireworks show, those who attend the event can look forward to great shopping and dining along Myrtle Avenue. Live entertainment featuring the band Person to Person will begin at 7:00 p.m., followed by the free 20-minute spectacular Fireworks Show at 9:00 p.m.

Spectators may reserve a park space no larger than 10' x 10' which must be supervised at all times. A new program that will be offered this year is a decorating contest, where spectators display their patriotic decorations within their 10' x 10' park space, with a chance to win a prize for most patriotic, most creative, or the judges award! It should be a tremendous event and we hope that the entire community will come on out to join us for the fun and festivities!

approximately an hour later and saw his vehicle, a white Escalade, had been broken into and the third row seat was missing. The investigation is continuing.

Driving Under the Influence - Suspect Arrested June 27 at 12:24 a.m., officers conducted a traffic stop on the 210 Freeway, just past the Myrtle onramp. During the contact, the officer observed several signs that the driver had been drinking. After investigation, the driver was determined to be driving under the influence of alcohol and was arrested, taken into custody, and held for sobering.

Driving Under the Influence - Suspect Arrested June 27 at 1:11 a.m., an officer conducted a traffic stop in the 400 block of West Huntington for a vehicle code violation. During the contact, the officer determined the driver had been drinking and was intoxicated. The driver was arrested for DUI and held for sobering.

Bicycle Theft/Shoplifting – Suspect Arrested June 27 at 3:16 p.m., an officer was flagged down by the victim of a bicycle theft that had just occurred in Duarte. The officer obtained a detailed description of the bike, then directed the subject to the Sheriff's substation to report the theft. The officer drove west on Huntington Drive and saw a male subject riding a bike that matched the exact description of the stolen bicycle. He followed the suspect to a business and saw the suspect drop the bike as he went into the store. When the male exited the store, he was detained. It was quickly discovered that the suspect had just shoplifted from the store. The suspect was positively identified by the victim as the suspect who stole the bicycle; he was arrested for both crimes and taken into custody.

Possession of Methamphetamine/Suspicious Circumstances -Suspect Arrested June 27 at 8:31 p.m., a resident from the 600 block of West Maple called police to report a male adult subject had burst through a door at their residence yelling for help; he appeared bloody, disoriented and scared. The subject ran down a hallway and into a bedroom. The residents went into another bedroom, closed the door and called police. Officers responded, set up containment of the area and requested additional resources. Officers from Irwindale and Arcadia responded to assist in the search, along with a canine unit from Glendora and the Foothill Air Support Team helicopter. Officers determined the location of the residents and rescued them. The suspect had gone out the window of the bedroom and broke into a second location, where he was found by officers, hiding in the garage. During a search of the suspect, he was found to be in possession of methamphetamine; he was arrested and taken into Petty Theft - Suspect Arrested June 25 at 4:14 p.m., officers were custody. GATTO'S BILL TO CREATE YELLOW ALERT, APPREHEND HIT-AND-RUN PERPETRATORS PASSES SENATE TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE

SACRAMENTO, CA - It was a close call. After surviving a "no" recommendation from the chair and some strong lobbying efforts against AB 8, the Senate Transportation and Housing Committee passed legislation to reduce the number of hitand-runs on an 11-0 vote. The legislation by Assemblyman Mike Gatto (D-Glendale) will institute the "Yellow Alert" system, allowing lawenforcement officials to engage drivers in helping identify and apprehend hit-and-run drivers.

The bill was able to pass after pedestrian, cyclist, and street-safety groups statewide rose up and let the committee members hear about how important the bill is to apprehend suspects who commit hitand-run crimes. The committee also heard tearful testimony from Julie Creed, whose son was badly injured in a hit and run, only to lose his friend in a separate hit-and-run incident just months later. The bill will permit law-enforcement officers to use the state's existing network of freeway signs to broadcast information about vehicles suspected in hit-and-run incidents. Alerts will be issued by local law-enforcement when there is a sufficient description of the offending vehicle or the identity of the suspect is known. However, this "Yellow Alert" system will be limited to the area where the hit-and-run crime occurred and will only be used when the hit-and-run results in death or serious bodily injury. The legislation will also give California Highway Patrol (CHP) the ability to prioritize the alerts if they happen to occur on the

When Denver created a similar alert system in 2012, they saw a 76% arrest rate in cases where the alert was activated, compared to a previous arrest rate of around 20%. The success of the program prompted Colorado's legislature to implement the program statewide.

"It's gotten to the point to where not a single week goes by without seeing another hit-and-run tragedy occurring," said Gatto. "People flee because they know there's little chance that they'll be caught." Hit-and-run accidents are becoming so out of hand that local officials and community members are starting to take action themselves. Los Angeles City officials are now offering a $50,000 standing reward for information in hit-and-run cases, and the mother of a hit-and-run victim in Orange County has petitioned every city in that county to He represents California's 43rd Assembly District, create a hit-and-run alert system.

L.A. Weekly reported that, in 2009, 48% of collisions in Los Angeles were hit-and-run incidents and Angeles neighborhoods of Atwater Village, East USA TODAY called Los Angeles "ground zero" Hollywood, Franklin Hills, Hollywood Hills, Los for hit-and-run incidents. The Los Angeles Police Feliz, and Silver Lake. www.asm.ca.gov/gatto Department reported that 80% of all hit-and-run crimes were unsolved from 2008 to 2012. However, the problem goes beyond the Greater Los Angeles Area. An article by the East Bay Express revealed that in 2014, only 3% of hit-and-run crimes in Oakland involving bodily injury led to charges

"California has the existing alert infrastructure in place and it costs us next to nothing to use it," said Gatto. "I have no doubt the Yellow Alert System would help apprehend criminals and have them brought to justice."

In 2013, Gatto authored AB 184, which doubled the statute of limitations to prosecute hit-andrun drivers. In 2014, he authored AB 47 and AB 1532, the latter of which would require mandatory license suspension for anyone convicted of a hitand-run involving a person. Despite the bipartisan support and narrowly tailored language of AB 47, Governor Brown vetoed the bill last September.

FIRE OFFICIALS URGE EXTREME CAUTION AS FIREWORKS GO ON SALE

CAL FIRE Offers Safety Tips this Fourth of July

Sacramento – With the Independence Day holiday rapidly approaching, CAL FIRE is reminding all Californians and visitors to do their part to prevent fires caused by illegal fireworks or the misuse of "Safe and Sane" fireworks. On Sunday, June 28 "Safe and Sane" Fireworks went on sale in approximately 300 communities throughout California. Although fireworks are a symbolic display of patriotism during this time of celebration, they can be dangerous when handled incorrectly or used in the wrong environment.

"As we head into the fourth summer of a severe drought, it is more important than ever that everyone use an abundance of caution to avoid sparking a fire," said Chief Ken Pimlott, director of CAL FIRE. "Here in California we have a zero tolerance for the use and sale of illegal

There are also legal ramifications when it comes to certain types of fireworks. Possession of illegal roman candles, aerial shells, firecrackers and other only in the manner intended types that explode, go into the air, or move on the ground in an uncontrollable manner can lead to a possible fine of up to $50,000 as well as prison time or jail for up to one year. Even "Safe and Sane" Fireworks taken into a city or county where they are banned are considered illegal.

The State Fire Marshal approved "Safe and Sane" fireworks are allowed for use in many communities; however, they are not approved state-wide. Before purchasing these types of fireworks, be sure to check your local ordinances and follow the instructions to avoid accidents and

'Safe and Sane Fireworks are only as safe as they are used," said State Fire Marshal Tonya Hoover. "Last year alone there were over 300 fires sparked by fireworks. We want everyone to enjoy their celebrations in a safe and legal manner."

Fireworks Guidelines:

· First check that fireworks are allowed in the area of use

· Make sure the firework has the State Fire Marshal "Safe and Sane"

· Purchase only from legitimate organizations authorized to sell · Have a bucket of water, sand or garden hose available at firing site

· Read all instructions before use fireworks such as sky rockets, bottle rockets, · Never alter, modify or enhance fireworks - use

> · Make sure fireworks have proper clearance from flammable materials including dry grass and brush

ARCADIA NAMED THIRD BEST SCHOOL DISTRICT FOR YOUR BUCK IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

San Francisco, CA (July 2, 2015) - NerdWallet, a consumer advocacy website, recently conducted a study to determine which school districts offer parents the best value for their money in Southern California – and Arcadia Unified ranked third.

While many top-rated schools are located in prohibitively expensive communities, NerdWallet sought to highlight sunny Southern California's hidden gems and analyzed 153 districts spanning ten counties. The study weighted cost of living metrics against the following school quality indicators: standardized test scores, college readiness, and class size.

Arcadia Unified School District in Los Angeles County has 11 schools that offer student-teacher ratios of about 22:1. The average SAT score is 1789, and about 84% of students go on to postsecondary education. The high school offers several Advanced Placement and honors courses, and earlier this year, the school unveiled a $3.8 million library, media center and cafeteria. This summer Arcadia High School will also be unveiling a brand new pool and state-of-the-art sports medicine facility. During this year's Super Bowl, a commercial featured a performance by the Arcadia High School band. The school's Quiz Bowl team won the national championship, and four other academic teams competed at national championship tournaments. The district is also the host of the annual Arcadia Invitational Track and Field meet, which is the largest high school sporting event in the country, and also hosted the first-ever Arcadia Innovation Summit recently. An impressive 31 Arcadia High School students were named National Merit Scholarship semifinalists this past school year, and three juniors received perfect scores on their SAT exams. The district makes our top five due to its varied opportunities for its students and commitment to excellence.

PARENTS PLAY A BIG ROLE IN KEEPING TEEN DRIVERS SAFE

(StatePoint) For teens, getting behind a federal fatality data. wheel can seem like an exciting taste of freedom. But too much leeway too soon can have dangerous results. Car crashes are the number one killer of teens, and half of all teens will be involved in a car crash before graduating high school, reports the National Safety Council (NSC).

Luckily, states with a Teen Safe Driving Coalition are helping change the game. The Coalitions -- comprised of state and local government, law enforcement, public health agencies, traffic safety and injury prevention organizations, academia, businesses, teens, parents and crash survivors -- were established by NSC and The Allstate Foundation. They have worked at the grassroots level for the last four years to educate parents and teens about the risks of teen driving. Coalitions exist in California, Florida, Maryland, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Texas to offer solutions for parents to help teens be safer.

The results have been effective. Crashes involving 15- to 17- year-old drivers in Coalition states have dropped nearly 34 percent since the Coalitions were established four years ago, whereas noncoalition states have experienced just a 19.5 percent drop, according to NSC analysis of

The Coalitions' success is in part because they promote a program that indisputably saves lives. Graduated Driver Licensing (GDL), a proven method of reducing teen drivers' crash risk by 20 to 40 percent, works by maximizing experience while minimizing common driving risks teens face, such as nighttime driving and carrying teen passengers. This allows new drivers to gain experience with less exposure to highrisk scenarios. All 50 states and D.C. have implemented some form of GDL.

"Beyond legislation, parents have a role to play as well," says Kathy Bernstein, senior manager of teen driving initiatives, NSC. "As the number one resource when it comes to teaching teens to drive, parents should stav involved well after teens get their licenses."

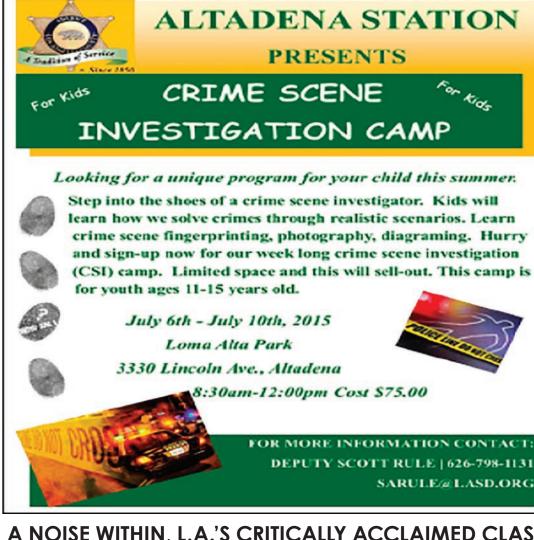

With that in mind, Bernstein is offering some life-saving tips to families with new

- Parents should drive with teens regularly even after they receive their license. A minimum of 30 minutes weekly can help ensure that safe driving skills are being employed.
- Talk with teens about managing distractions, such as phones -- both handheld and hands-free -- the radio, other young passengers, and even beautiful roadside scenery. When teens are driving, they must stay focused on the task at hand.

- Mile for mile, 16 and 17 year-old drivers are about three times as likely to be involved in a fatal car crash at night than during the day, according to "Injury Prevention," a peer review journal. Parents should give teens opportunities to learn nighttime driving skills with an adult supervisor in the car.
- One of the best ways for teens to learn to drive is by example. So practice safe habits always.
- Visit the Drive it Home site at www. DriveitHome.org for resources, such as weekly driving lessons and the New Driver Deal, a contract which parents and teens can create together that outlines household driving rules and the consequences for breaking them.

"Remember, it's not whether teens are 'good kids' or 'responsible.' New drivers share one thing in common -- lack of experience," says Bernstein. "The more practice driving teens get, the better."

filled weeks of acting, stage-combat, costuming, and more, where kids can:

Demystify Shakespeare through classes led by professional teaching artists.

Meet fellow young artists through ensemble scene work. Master the language of the Bard through monologues.

Take charge of the stage in stage-combat workshops. Perform on ANW's main stage, just like the org.

The camp session culminates with each of the three age-based divisions performing for an audience on the Theatre's main stage. The young actors will perform scenes and monologues from Shakespeare's plays on Thursday, July 16, or Friday, July 17.

Education and Community Outreach Director Alicia Green, who holds a master's degree in educational theater from NYU's Steinhardt School, administers ANW's summer programs. She advises, "Our camp is unique in that each of the three levels imparts social interaction and skill sets that have been designed to be entirely age appropriate. Equally important, our campers have the unique experience of working with established professionals in the theatrical arts."

About A Noise Within

A Noise Within, founded in 1991, is among the country's pre-eminent presenters of classical theatre and is the leading presenter of these plays in Southern California. The company's mission is to produce world-class performances of the great works of drama in rotating repertory with a resident company; to educate and inspire the public through programs that foster an understanding and appreciation of history's great plays and playwrights; and to train the next generation of classical theatre artists.

Originally based in a former Masonic Temple in Glendale, the company moved to its present home—a building of architectural distinction designed by Edward Durrell Stone of Kennedy Center fame—in 2011. Helmed by Producing Artistic Directors Geoff Elliott and Julia Rodriguez-Elliott, who hold MFAs from San Francisco's American Conservatory Theatre, A Noise Within delivers a seven-show repertory season and a wide range of educational programs to diverse audiences from Los Angeles County and well beyond. Voted "Best Theatre" by readers of Time Out Los Angeles and recommended by readers of Pasadena Weekly, A Noise Within is indeed "Čalifornia's Home for the Classics."

LOOKING FOR A BEST FRIEND?

Meet Shenzi! found abandoned in the Humane Society parking lot a few months ago. She is a petite Chihuahua mix, about 2 years old and weighs 9 pounds. Shenzi was nearly bald from mange caused by mites when she was found. After several months of treatment and weekly-medicated baths, Shenzi is now free of mites and has been cleared for adoption. Her fur is growing back, although she does have some scars as a reminder of her past life. Shenzi has been through a lot for a young dog, but she is Shenzi or any of the other available animals at quite resilient. She has the happiest personality, and always greets everyone with a smile on her face. Shenzi loves people and will jump into the nearest lap for some cuddle time. She will generously give kisses in return.

Shenzi enjoys the company of other dogs, and gets along well with most of the dogs, large or small, that she has met at the shelter. She was abandoned with a much larger dog, and the two of them were best friends and loved to romp and play together. Shenzi and her current kennel mate are new best friends, and they can often be found wrestling with each other in a good-natured way. Shenzi is so outgoing that she has been a mentor to some of the shy new dogs that have spent time with her, drawing them out of their shells and helping Saturday, July 11, 2015.

them adjust to shelter life. Shenzi is a good ambassador for the shelter and has been selected to attend several off-site adoption events. Her joyful spirit is contagious and sure to bring a smile to those around her. Shenzi would make a happy addition to an active family that can give her the love she deserves.

Her adoption fee is $120 which includes her spay surgery, a microchip, first vaccinations and a free wellness check-up at a participating veterinarian.

If you are interested in meeting the shelter, visit the San Gabriel Valley Humane Society at 851 E. Grand Ave., San Gabriel, Calif. 91776. It is open 10:00am to 4:30pm Tuesday thru Sunday. HOT DOGS AND THE SPIRIT OF 4TH OF JULY

The bad news my friends is that Denny Barry's 4th of July Party is waterless this year, the good news is, it's a great day for a hot dog. Over seven billion hot dogs will be eaten by Americans between Memorial Day and Labor Day. During the July 4th weekend alone (the biggest hot-dog holiday of the year), 155 million will be downed.

Every year, Americans eat an average of 60 hot dogs each. They are clearly one of the country's most loved, but most misunderstood, comfort

Like most great events in History, there are varying accounts of how it all began and who started it. The history of the Hot Dog is no different. You will find many references throughout history to the origins of a Hot Dog-like thing called a sausage. Here are some stories of how the Hot Dog was born.

The invention of the Hot Dog, is often attributed to the 1904 Louisiana Purchase Exposition. However, similar sausages were made and consumed in Europe, particularly in Germany, as early as 1864, and the earliest example of a hot dog bun dates to New York City in the 1860s. German immigrants appear to have sold hot dogs, along with milk rolls and sauerkraut, from pushcarts in New York City's Bowery during the 1860s. The Hot Dog's association with baseball also predates the 1904 World's Fair. Chris von der Ahe, owner of the St Louis Browns, sold Hot Dogs at his ballpark in the 1880s.

Who's Served the First Hot Dog? Also in doubt is who first served the first Hot Dog. Wieners and frankfurters don't become Hot Dogs until someone puts them in a roll or a bun. There are several stories or legends as to how this first happened. Specific people were have been credited for for supposedly inventing the Hot Dog. Charles Feltman and Antonoine Feuchtwanger were among the few.

In 1867, Charles Feltman, a German butcher, opened up the first Coney Island hot dog stand in Brooklyn, New York and sold 3,684 dachshund sausages in a roll during his first year in business He is also credited with the idea of the warm bun.

In 1880 a German peddler, Antonoine Feuchtwanger, sold hot sausages in the streets of St. Louis, Missouri. He would supply white gloves with each purchase so that his customers would not burn their hands while eating the sausage. He saw his profits going down because the customers kept taking the gloves and walking off with them. His wife suggested that he put the sausages in a split bun instead. He reportedly asked his brother-in-law, a baker, for help. The baker improvised long soft rolls that fit the meat, thus inventing the hot dog bun. When he did that, the Hot Dog was born. He called them red hots.

Although the exact origins of the Chicago Dog are not documented, Vienna Beef of Chicago claims the "Chicago-style" Hot Dog was invented by two European immigrants at the Chicago World's Fair and Columbian Exhibition in 1893.

What's in a name? Another story that riles serious hot dog historians is how term "Hot Dog" came about. Some say the word was coined in 1901 at the New York Polo Grounds on a cold April day. Vendors were hawking hot dogs from portable hot water tanks shouting "They're red hot! Get your dachshund sausages while they're red hot!" A New York Journal sports cartoonist, Tad Dorgan, observed the scene and hastily drew a cartoon of barking dachshund sausages nestled warmly in rolls. Not sure how to spell "dachshund" he simply wrote "hot dog!" The cartoon is said to have been a sensation, thus coining the term "hot dog." However, historians have been unable to find this cartoon, despite Dorgan's enormous body of work and his popularity.

1893 - The 1893 Chicago World's Fair, also called the Columbian Exposition, brought thousands of visitors who consumed large quantities of sausage sold by vendors. People liked this food that was easy to eat, convenient, and inexpensive.

Also in the same year, it is claimed that sausages became the standard fare at baseball parks. Some historians claim that Chris Von der Ahe (1851-1913), owner of a St. Louis Bar and the St. Louis Browns major league baseball team, introduced sausages to go with his already popular beer. He was a colorful character himself. A large man who wore loud, checkered clothing, Chris sat in a special box behind third base with a whistle and binoculars. He used the whistle to get the attention of players, for someone to get him a beer, or for special cops he employed for personal use and to keep tabs on his players. He bought the Browns in order to put himself in the limelight and to advertise his saloon business.

Historians, to this day, have not found any research to back up the claim that hot dogs were sold at Sportsman's Park.

Truly, "Necessity is the Mother of invention." =

The popularity of the hot dog and baseball – I know this may be very difficult for some Dodger fans but the love of the hotdog and baseball did not start with the Dodgers.

INGREDIENTS:

3 cloves Garlic crushed 1 tb Seasoned salt 1/2 c Oil

1c Fresh lemon juice 12 tsp Italian Salad dressing

1/2 c Chopped onions 1 Pepper

1 ts Crushed thyme

4 Rock Cornich Hens, giblets removed

DIRECTIONS:

Blend garlic, seasoned salt, oil, lemon juice, dressing, onions, pepper, and thyme. Marinate the birds overnight in the refrigerator.

Cut the birds lengthwise.

Cook on outside grill, bone side down 10 minutes, flesh side down 5 minutes, alternating 10 minutes and 5 minutes in this manner for about an hour and basting with marinade frequently (at least every 5 minutes) while barbequing.

Serves 8.

If you can't get outside to barbecue, just use the oven method:

Preheat oven to 400 degrees.

Place skin side up in a shallow pan, baste with marinade, cover with foil and roast for 30 minutes.

Remove foil and brush with marinade again. Roast again uncovered for 20-30 minutes (brush with marinade again after about 10 minutes).

Test for doneness: drumsticks should be soft and juices should not be tinged with pink when you pierce the thickest part of the thigh with a fork.

After several meetings of the YWCA Senior Services Advisory Council, the Council Members voted to increase the suggested donation for both group-dining meals and home delivered meals from $2.00 to $3.00 per meal and non-senior meals from $3.75 to $5.00 per meal beginning July 1, 2015.

This was not an easy decision for the Council Members to make but unfortunately both general operating costs and the cost of purchasing meals from various caterers have increased significantly over the past years. However, it is very important for you to know that we want you to continue to participate in our meal programs and that we want to emphasize that the suggested donation is and will remain a voluntary and confidential donation. Anyone having questions about the suggested donation policy and the donation procedures may call the YWCA Senior Services Director at

KATIE Tse.....This and That "GREASE BALL," THE CHICKEN

Back in 1940, Phil was eight years old. One day as he was walking to his father's shop in Pasadena, he stopped at the original Simpson's Feed Store on Colorado and bought a baby chick for 13 cents. His dad's automotive shop was on the way, and, as Phil tells it, the chicken never made it to their house, but instead took up residence at his dad's shop. There was a German shepherd named "Big Boy" who also lived there, so the chicken grew up believing herself to be a dog, even sleeping on her side with her legs sticking out. Body shops aren't the cleanest places in the world, so the chicken perpetually sported a layer of grease and oil, earning her the name "Grease Ball."

Grease Ball had some interesting habits. She developed a taste for eating non-food items, such as 9 millimeter nuts. One of the workers was working under a car and had the nuts in a tin next to him. Grease Ball discretely picked them out while the guy wasn't looking. That didn't go over too well. Despite Grease Ball's meddlesome tendencies, she was still beloved by the workers, who often shared their beer with her.

Grease Ball also enjoyed visiting the nearby arcade establishments. There was a mechanic shop next to Phil's dad's place, and Grease Ball tried to build a nest in a keg of nails. She also roosted in the In/Out mailbox and other inconvenient locations. The oddity of the situation eventually drew the attention of the local media, and Grease Ball was featured in Ripley's "Believe it or Not" column in the newspaper. Phil and his parents received many letters from people who didn't believe the story. Someone even sent them a roll of toilet paper with a note that read, "For your chicken!"

Grease Ball unfortunately met an untimely end in an open lot by "Mother Goose's Shoe" restaurant. The back door of the restaurant was adjacent to Phil's dad's shop. Grease Ball would sometimes meander into the kitchen. She liked the French fries, and even tried to nest in the fry basket. The chef would often chase her out, wielding a meat cleaver.

Although it would have been nice to say that Grease Ball ended her days peacefully, at least she lived a fuller life than most chickens, and she supplied Phil with entertaining stories that have delighted his family and friends for over seven decades. Pretty good for 13 cents!

SECTION B

THE DECLARATION

The Declaration of Independence: A TRANSCRIPTION

IN CONGRESS, July 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America,

When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.--That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, --That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience has hewn, that manked are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses of the contraction of the same object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.--Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend

He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavoured to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.

He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary powers.

He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harrass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation:

For Quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:
For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent:

For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury:

For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offences

For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:
For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments:

For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us. He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have We been wanting in attentions to our Brittish brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which, would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the united States of America, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be Free and Independent States; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine

SIERRA MADRE CELEBRATES AMERICA

SIERRA MADRE CIVIC CLUB CONTRIBUTES TO SUMMER FUN

Nobody does summer fun and of the contests, generally attract the Fourth of July like Sierra Madre. And the Sierra Madre Civic Club is right in the midst of things providing opportunities for fun for the whole family. Following up our very successful Concert in the Park featuring a tribute to the Eagles, Civic Club will be participating in the Fourth of July activities by selling confetti eggs and sponsoring the games in the park.

At 11:00 AM, following the parade, there will be a community picnic and celebration in Sierra Vista Park, 611 E Sierra Madre Blvd, Sierra Madre. The games will begin at 12:30PM. Participants will take part in everything from three-legged races, sack races, wheelbarrow races, and the bunny hop (for ages 6 and under) to the shoe toss, the egg (not hard-boiled!) toss and the water balloon toss. Chairs Darlene Traxler and Sharon Murphy emphasize that the games are for the entire family since with the exception of the bunny hop, all the races and the shoe toss have different contests for participants in different age groups. Indeed, some of our fiercest competitors last year were the adults while the kids were the ones who laughed the most. The egg toss and the water balloon toss are for competitors of all ages and, as the messiest the most participants and elicit the most shouts and laughter. Ribbons will be awarded to the winners in all age groups, but really, everyone who participates comes away with a smile looking for all the world like a winner.

In addition to coordinating the games in the Park, the Sierra Madre Civic Club will again be selling their famous (at least in Sierra Madre) confetti eggshollowed out egg shells, filled with confetti, and covered with tissue paper. Look for Club members in Memorial Park on July 3, pulling a little red wagon along the parade route on July 4, and in Sierra Vista Park at the community picnic and celebration. The confetti eggs will cost $1 for a half dozen, $2 for a dozen, and $3 for a carton of 18 eggs. Buy early before we run out so you don't miss the fun of hitting someone with an egg and generating a smile rather than a

SEAN'S SHAMELESS REVIEWS:

By Sean Kayden

TRUE DETECTIVE SEASON TWO IS WORTH YOUR TIME

and haven't started the new season that premiered over two weeks ago, what are you waiting for? The opaque, brooding drama focuses on three law enforcement characters as well as career criminal, Frank Semyon played by the villainous Vince Vaughn. With a series of disappointing comedies throughout the years, it's great to see Vaughn in a much more serious role. After the first two episodes, he clearly pulls this role off very well appearing as a businessman, who's focus is on securing investors for a high-speed rail project set to begin construction next year. Dark and shady, Vaughn is quite compelling here as the "bad guy."

Colin Farrell plays Ray Velcoro, a detective in the Vinci, California Police department. I've always thought Farrell was magnetic on screen over the length of his career. He's not the finest actor in the world and hasn't made the best films there are, but he posses something innate that allows him to just pull you, the viewer, in whenever he's presented on screen. In True Detective season two, Velcoro is both a drunk and a father. His life is a complete and utter mess. Well over a decade ago, his wife had been beaten and raped. Nine months later, she had a child, who looks nothing like Ray. He wants to believe he's the father, but never took a paternity test. While the police never officially caught the rapist, Vince Vaughn's Frank Semyon character found out who it was, told Ray, and they took care of him. Ray has been entangled with Frank ever since. Like Vaughn, Ferrell is terrific, showcasing his true talents playing a broken and bruised detective and troubled father.

Ani Bezzerides played by the powerful Rachel McAdams is a detective in the Ventura County Sheriff's Office Criminal Investigation Division. She is outwardly deficient of any emotion other than perhaps anger. She has a father, who's into a very experimental hippie lifestyle. He runs a commune, and she has a sister, Athena, where she was exposed for doing webcam porn when Ani of television currently on air. and her partner raided the house she was living at with others. This is a great role for McAdams who is terrific playing a dominant, independent, strong at 9pm.

If you're a fan of the first season of True Detective female character. Everyone here is captivating and the characters are what truly draw you in when watching this season of True Detective.

Paul Woodrugh played by Taylor Kitsch ("Batteleship," "Savages," "Friday Night Lights") is the a bit of a mystery. He' is a California Highway Patrolman who, in the first episode, gets suspended with pay after pulling over a woman who offers a sexual favor in lieu of a ticket. While he seems so far more like a third tier character compared to the others, a few offhand comments by his girlfriend suggest he was a private military contractor, likely in Afghanistan or Iraq. In the first episode, it is shown that he has burn marks across much of his upper body. While it seems he's had less screen time than the other actors thus far, Kitsch still plays a key role here. He's low key, almost aloof. He is dealing with some deep, heavy pain inside of him. While the other two law enforcements are more expressive with their anger, Kitsch is much more detached with his Woodrugh character.

All the personas in this season are intensely flawed. They're all shattered human beings. The characters are extremely well written even if the plot becomes a bit confusing or befuddled along the way. The end of episode of two will have you scratching your head. However, after two episodes, you should be hooked on TD is prescribing. If you were a fan of the first season, I must tell you the tone and pacing is different. It's still dark and deliberately paced, but it's unlike the days in Alabama with Matthew Mcconaughey and Woody Harrelson and their memorable one on one conversations. So, if you haven't started this season just yet, don't go in with any huge expectations that correspond to season one's viewing. This go around is a fresh take on a police serialized series. I am totally digging the way they changed things up, keeping me engaged from the first frame to its last. It's menacing, it's intriguing, it's gripping and True Detective season two may be the best offering

THE GLORIOUS CAUSE: THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION: 1763-1789

by Robert Middlekauff

This critically acclaimed volume offers an unsurpassed history of the Revolutionary War and the birth of the American republic. Beginning with the French and with Indian War and continuing to the election of George Washington president, first Robert Middlekauff offers a panoramic of the history between England and America, highlighting the drama and anguish of the colonial struggle for independence. Combining the political and the personal, he provides a compelling account of the key events that precipitated the war, from the Stamp Act to the Tea Act, tracing the gradual gathering of American resistance that culminated in the Boston Tea Party and "the shot heard 'round the world." The heart of the book features a vivid description of the eightyear-long war, with gripping accounts of battles and campaigns. The book concludes with an insightful Philadelphia Convention of 1787 and the struggle over ratification. Middlekauff gives the reader a vivid sense of how the colonists saw these events and the importance they gave to them. Common soldiers and great generals, Sons of Liberty and African slaves, town committee-men and representatives in congress--all receive their due. And there are insightful portraits of such figures as Sam and John Adams, James Otis, Thomas Jefferson, George Washington, and many others.

WASHINGTON'S CROSSING by David Hackett

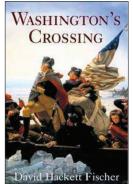

and advanced within sight of Philadelphia. Yet, George Washington-and many other Americans-refused to let the Revolution die. On Christmas night, as a storm struck the Delaware Valley, he led his men across the river and attacked the Hessian garrison at Trenton, killing or capturing nearly a thousand men. A second battle of Trenton followed within days. The Americans held off a counterattack by Cornwallis's best troops, then were almost trapped by the British force. Under cover of night, Washington's men stole behind the enemy and struck them again, defeating a brigade at Princeton. The British were badly shaken. In twelve weeks of winter fighting, their army suffered severe damage, their hold on New Jersey was broken, and their strategy was ruined. Fischer's richly textured narrative reveals the crucial role of contingency in these events. The startling success of Washington and his compatriots not only saved the faltering American Revolution, but helped to give it new meaning.

PAUL REVERE'S RIDE by David Hackett

Fischer Paul Revere's midnight ride looms as an almost mythical event in American history--yet it has been largely ignored by scholars and left to patriotic writers and debunkers. Now one of the foremost American historians offers the first serious look at the events of the night of April 18, 1775-what led up to it, what really happened, and what followed--uncovering a truth far more remarkable than the myths of tradition. Fischer fashions an exciting narrative that offers deep insight into the outbreak of revolution and the emergence of the American republic. Beginning in the years before the eruption of war, he illuminates the figure of Paul Revere, a man far more complex than the simple artisan and messenger of tradition. Revere ranged widely through the complex world of Boston's revolutionary movement--from organizing local mechanics to mingling with the likes of John Hancock and Samuel Adams. When the fateful night arrived, more than sixty men and women joined him on his task of alarm--an operation Revere himself helped to organize and set in motion. Fischer recreates Revere's capture that night, showing how it had an important impact on the events that followed. He had an uncanny gift for being at the center of events, and the author follows him to Lexington Green--setting the stage for a fresh interpretation of the battle that began the war. Drawing on intensive new research, Fischer reveals a clash very different the from both patriotic and iconoclastic myths. Paul Revere's Ride returns Paul Revere to center stage was all but lost. A in these critical events, capturing both the drama British and the underlying developments in a triumphant return to narrative history at its finest.

Who doesn't like skin. Basically we have to make sure we are eating the feeling of warm foods that will keep us protected. Antioxidants sunlight hitting their do just that. Antioxidants are powerful natural skin? Depending on UV protectants. Some can be very helpful for protecting us against accelerated skin aging due to heaven. Without There is evidence that the spices turmeric the sun we would and ginger, both antioxidants, have protective not exist. It has the effects on skin health. Both of these spices are a wonderful ways to add flavor to meals but they life giving power. can both be taken as supplements too. White tea, The sun helps us to one of the least processed varieties of tea and high in antioxidants, has been shown to be protective against early wrinkle formation.

Any plant food that is a natural source of immune vitamin C or E is also an antioxidant. Most fruits and vegetables contain some amount of Vitamin C. Some great sources vitamin E are sunflower seeds, almonds, spinach and avocado. Lycopene, a compound found in tomatoes, has been shown to be protective against free radicals brought on by too much sunlight exposure. Studies show that organic tomato paste appears to have higher levels of lycopene than raw tomatoes. Tomatoes also contain a number of other antioxidants, including a high amount of vitamin C which complements lycopene's protective action.

My advice is to make sure you get some sunshine on a regular basis and at the same time you are like me you have lots of plans. Do you have the resources to meet your goals? Is there enough money, time and energy to let you enjoy this time of year?

Building wealth is a lot like building health. It takes time and consistent effort. When you invest money in vehicles such as stocks, bonds, money markets, or real estate, you expect a return on your investment in the form of interest. When you invest in yourself you also want to receive interest, its called "self interest."

NEW HORIZONS SPACECRAFT PREPARES FOR ENCOUNTER WITH PLUTO JULY 14

In a long series of images obtained by New Horizons' telescopic Long Range Reconnaissance Imager (LORRI) between May 29 and June 19, Pluto and its largest moon, Charon, appear to more than double in size. From this rapidly improving imagery, scientists on the New Horizons team have found that the "close approach hemisphere" on Pluto that New Horizons will fly over has the greatest variety of terrain types seen on the planet so far. They have also discovered that Charon has a "dark pole" — a mysterious dark region that forms a kind of anti-polar cap.

'This system is just amazing," said Alan Stern, New Horizons Principal Investigator, from the Southwest Research Institute, Boulder, Colorado. "The science team is just ecstatic with what we see on Pluto's close approach hemisphere: Every terrain type we see on the planet — including both the brightest and darkest surface areas — are represented there, it's a wonderland!

"And about Charon — wow — I don't think anyone expected Charon to reveal a mystery like dark terrains at its pole," he continued. "Who ordered that?"

"The unambiguous detection of bright and dark terrain units on both Pluto and Charon indicates a wide range of diverse landscapes across the pair," said science team co-investigator and imaging lead Jeff Moore, of NASA Ames Research Center, Mountain View, California. "For example, the bright fringe we see on Pluto may represent frost deposited from an evaporating polar cap, which is now in summer sun."

GRIFFITH OBSERVATORY TO CELEBRATE FIRST ENCOUNTER WITH PLUTO. On July 14, after a journey of 10 years and three billion miles, NASA's New Horizons spacecraft will make the firstever close encounter with Pluto. What can we expect from New Horizons as it ventures past the mysterious dwarf planet? A good way to find out is to come to Los Angeles' Griffith Observatory, which will host several activities to celebrate the New Horizons encounter with Pluto. All events are free and open to the public.

FOURTH OF JULY. FREEDOM, AND MONEY

By Christopher Nyerges

[Nyerges is the author of several books including 'How to Survive Anywhere,' "Extreme Simplicity," and "Self-Sufficient Home." He has lectured, taught, and led field trips since 1974. He can be reached at www.SchoolofSelf-

Reliance.com or Box 41834, Eagle Rock,CA 90041] Over the years, I have given a lecture called "The Four Illusions of Money," in which I share the many ways in which money controls our thinking and our actions. For most people, money is intricately and intimately related to every part of our life, and especially that nebulous thing we call "freedom." On our country's Independence Day, it seems worthwhile to take a closer look at how we view money, and how it affects our independence and our freedom. For starters, What is money, how is money created, what is the Federal Reserve, what is the IMF, how does international debt affect us here in the U.S.? All good questions for you to research on your own, which are at the very foundation of money and what it is and what it does but that's not what I'll be discussing today.

OK, when people are queried, almost everyone says that they do not have enough money, and would like to have more. Everyone at all income levels says the same thing! Furthermore, one of the most commonly-cited reasons given by people who continue to work at a job they dislike is to "make a lot of money." The reasons that this is such a ubiquitous goal - to make a lot of money - can be summed up in the four following rationales:

A lot of money will let me be free to do what I want to do. People with a lot of money command more respect from

I need more money for my family.

Money is necessary for my security in old age. Yes, there are many more such "illusions" that dance around money, but these four seemed to fairly concisely address all the secondary and corollary illusions. These four statements are illusions about money. That means, these represent false perceptions of the world. That is to say, when we embrace any or all of these four illusions, we are prevented from seeing the NON-monetary realities about our life and the choices that we make.

So let's explore the first one. A lot of money will let me be free to do what I want to do. One way to see through this illusion is to make a specific list of all your carefully-considered goals. These can be short-term and long-term goals. These can include travel, projects, achievements, possessions, skills (learning a new language), etc., but the list cannot include money. Money cannot be a goal. Next, you should examine the list you made and begin to delineate precisely how you can go about achieving that goal. Yes, of course, money can help accelerate the achievement of the goal. Still, once your goals are clearly established in your own mind – and clearly differentiated from "passing wants" – you can steadily move forward, step by step, toward the achievement of that goal. Money is incidental to this process, and must not be allowed to determine the choices you make and the steps that you take. A large part of achieving a goal – perhaps the most important part – is to learn valuable life-enhancing skills that you wouldn't have learned otherwise.

And many of the essential steps toward a goal involve working with other people. Working with other people develops strong friendships and relationships, and this requires that you must be - or become - reliable and achieving goals should represent a true freedom from our enslavement to money, and should open you up to some truly life-enhancing experiences.

Remember, this perspective is offered as an alternative to "going out to make enough money so I can be free to do what I want to do."

One of the amazing insights that I gained while sharing this at our seminar was how many people actually had no clearly-defined goals at all.

Not only do most people have no clearly-defined longterm goals in life, most of us have very different and conflicting ideas about this thing called "freedom." I propose that there are at least two sorts of "freedom":

freedom-to, and freedom-from. Freedom-to refers to the ability to pursue those goals, and do those things, that you wish to do, or need to do. Freedom-from can refer to simply escaping from a bad situation, like a civil war in your country, or trouble in your neighborhood.

Connected to this is the two sided coin of rights and responsibility. Everyone wants their rights, but somehow the responsibilities are too often left untended.

I have observed that those individuals who willingly take on responsibilities (of all sorts) gain more and more rights. Though this inevitably involves "money" in some way, it implies a mental state that has nothing to do with money at all.

Let's look at another of the Four Illusions. Money is necessary for my security in old age.

Money is needed in many ways, of course, but personal security, inner and outer, cannot be purchased.

The real security that is most needed by elderly can be enhanced by money, but it can never be built solely upon money. Inner security arises with the development of deep friendships, and with learning to be flexible and adaptable, for example, and these are not things that are in any way dependant upon money.

In fact, one of the best ways to "prepare for old age" is to become the type of person – inwardly and outwardly – that other people will want to be around and work with.

This means being competent, helpful, flexible, honest, moral, curious, always willing to learn and to share, generous, and so on. And note that none of these virtues are either the intrinsic or exclusive virtues of the wealthy.

Developing one's character is clearly one of the best ways to prepare for the calamities that might strike any of us at any age, such as wars, depressions, social chaos, as well as a whole host of personal difficulties.

Learn to Produce

History has also taught us that those who learn to produce what they need, and then do so, are invariably more free than their neighbors who do not do so. There are exceptions of course, but those who grow their own food can then sell the surplus of what they grow for the cash to buy what they cannot barter. In a famous discussion between Merlin and King Arthur (yes, I know I am stretching it a bit here), Merlin told his student that there would never be war if people chose to be self-sufficient.

The way to apply these simple principles tends to be complex, and always further complicated by politicians who are lost in their worlds of words. Still, freedom to do what is right should be the goal of everyone, and certainly the goal of every American. It is why this country was founded less than three centuries ago.

And despite all the bickering and fighting that still continues to this day over what the U.S. is and what it represents, I find that the best rule of thumb for guidance is the Golden Rule: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." [A continuation of this discussion of money can be found in Christopher Nyerges' "Extreme Simplicity," book available trustworthy yourself. This manner of pursuing and at bookstores, Amazon, and www.SchoolofSelf-Reliance.

A Weekly Religion Column by Rev. James Snyder

WHY NOT JUST BE AN AMERICAN

country, I cannot help but think back on some of our history. What a grand history we have had. I know some people are ashamed of our history and so we have revisionists rewriting American the real America.

My wife and I were relaxing after a scrumptious supper and were watching a little bit of TV. I was half dozing, as is usually my condition after such a supper, when my wife startled me with a question.

It was a news program on television updating us with the latest political scratch-talk. If it were not for politics, the airwaves would be silent. Oh, for those wonderful sounds of silence. Personally, I would be glad to double my tax rate if in doing so we could put to silence all this political-scratchtalk. I call it "scratch-talk" because whoever is talking is trying to scratch somebody's back even if it is just their own. I guess we have a lot of itchy backs in this country. Thankfully, we have an endless supply of backscratching politicians.

It does not matter which way the wind is blowing each political party says it is blowing in their Harvard and have a student loan debt of $120,000 to understand how that works. If you do not mind, recommend a first grader. I just do not want to know how it works.

real Americans, they sure know how to work a situation, usually to their advantage. If they could put all of this to work for the good of the ordinary American, I would feel happier about paying my taxes. As it is, I pay my taxes but not happily.

Back to my wife's question. "Who are," said very carefully, "the real Americans in this country?" Then she paused for a moment and followed it with this question, "Who does America really belong to?"

Well, those two questions got me thinking.

Who are the real Americans? Are they Republicans, Democrats or Independents? I know there is a bunch of other miscellaneous political parties, but I cannot think of them right now. Which one is the American Party?

If I do not like any political party, where does that leave me? I am all for parties, but the whole idea of a party is for people to have fun. I do not see any political party where I could have fun. The strange thing today is, if I do not "belong" to some political party I am not able to vote in this country. Moreover, if I do vote, who in the world do I vote

My wife and I got to talking about this and I, for once in my life, posed a question. How would you describe the average American?

Is the average American black, white, yellow, red

As we celebrate another birthday of this great or a mixture of colors? Do you define an American by the color of his or her skin? What about gender? Is the average American male or female? Then there is age. How old is the average American?

We bounced these questions around for a long history. Nevertheless, I certainly want to celebrate time and did not come up with any good answers. Then there was silence.

I come back to one thought; why can't we just be Americans. Why do we have to have all the emphasis on variations, colors, temperaments and the people we elect to office who cannot tie their own shoes without conducting some poll? Why can't we send ordinary, common sense Americans to Washington, DC who understands the American life?

Most of the politicians, if not all, live in a bubble and cannot relate to the average American in this country. I challenge these politicians to act like, live like common, everyday, normal Americans.

We normal Americans have to live on a budget. If I do not have enough money, I have come to the end of my buying spree. I think this concept ought to be copyrighted and sent to Washington, DC. It is a new concept. It will need somebody to interpret direction. I guess you have to go to eight years to it to those who are living in that venomous circle that we call the capital of the United States. I would

It would be refreshing to have somebody in With the politicians unable to create work Congress or the Senate who had common sense. in our country for common Americans, the I guess Will Rogers was right when he said the problem with common sense is it is no longer

> A real American is one who is committed to the concept of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. A real American is one who embraces the red, white and blue. A real American is the one who can clutch his five-dollar bill and say, "in God we trust." If it is good for our money, it is good for

> If only the American people, the real people of America, would wake up and see what our politicians are doing, perhaps they would do what our early founders did.

> In celebrating another Fourth of July, my thought is simply, why not just be an American.

> A real American also embraces what Jesus said, "Render therefore unto Caesar the things which be Caesar's, and unto God the things which be God's" (Luke 20:25).

FAMILY MATTERS By Marc Garlett

PROTECTING YOUR CHILD WITH A SPECIAL NEEDS TRUST

When you have a family member with special needs, it is important to understand that your estate planning strategy is unique and requires the assistance of an attorney experienced in creating Special Needs Trusts. If an inheritance is left directly to your family member with special needs, it could result in the loss of essential government benefits that assist with the cost of his or her care. A Special Needs Trust permits an individual that is 65 years or younger to receive certain resources beyond what is supplied by Medicaid without making him or her ineligible to receive the government benefits.

A Special Needs Trust can be created while you are living or, you can create a will or a revocable living trust that establishes a Special Needs Trust at your death and transfers funds into the trust

Either way, a Special Needs Trust can provide a disabled dependent with the ability to pay for the care and services that are not covered by government benefits. This includes things such as therapies, special equipment, education, travel costs associated with medical appointments, and other similar costs that are not covered by Medicaid.

When the government determines whether or not your loved one qualifies for benefits, the assets held in a Special Needs Trust are not considered because the funds held in the trust are not readily available to the beneficiary - the distributions from a Special Needs Trust are made on a discretionary

A Special Needs Trust could also be used to create financial incentives to ensure your loved one continues to be cared for the way you want after you are gone. For example, we've built provisions into Special Needs Trusts that provide for cash payments to a guardian who takes the family member with special needs out of the house to movies and meals, for example, in the same way the parents did while they were living.

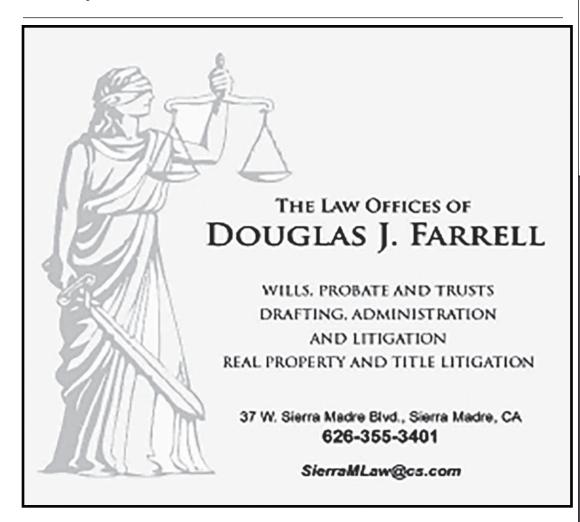

Finally, it is also important to consider how to ensure that the trust has sufficient funds throughout the life of the individual with special needs. One method that is commonly used is to name the Special Needs Trust as the beneficiary of the parent's (or other relatives) life insurance policies. You will also want to ensure that the trust assets are wisely invested so the funds continue to accumulate and grow. And family members and friends should be encouraged to make donations or gifts to the trust and/or to include it as a beneficiary in their own wills or life insurance policies.

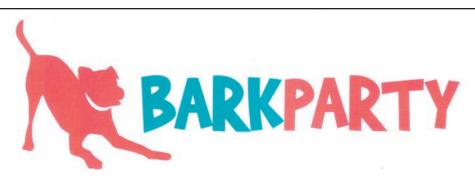

It can be complicated to properly plan for a loved one with special needs which is why it is important to get started as soon as possible. And we can help. One of the main goals of my law practice is to help families like yours plan for the protection of yourself and your family through conscious, thoughtful estate planning. Call my office today to schedule a time for us to sit down and talk so together we can identify the best strategies for you and your family.

Tips of the Trade: Real Estate Revealed

IT'S ALL ABOUT APPROVAL

These days, a buyer's biggest concern shouldn't be so much about finding the lowest interest rate, but finding a lender who will approve their application. There are three basic types of mortgage providers, each regulated by a different agency, and following different disclosure laws.

Banks: generally employ their own underwriters and provide loans with their own money. They often have mortgage products matched to particular situations, such as manufactured homes or new construction. Minimum credit score requirements will vary from bank to bank.

Brokers: work on a commission and make a little more than bankers, but their business is highly regulated and transparent. They prepare your application file and present it to banks or investors. Involving a third party can take more time, of course, and since they have higher credit score requirements and fees, don't shop at a broker if your score is below 620.

Correspondents: draw from their own credit lines and sell your mortgage shortly before closing. Since their ability to lend depends on their own credit, it's possible for closing to be delayed if they are processing more loans than they have funds to cover. That doesn't mean you can't still get

You need to assess your financial position and your needs, and speak with your real estate agent about which type of lender best suits your situation.

BOB TORNOE

DEAR CHRIS CHRISTIE, STOP PRETENDING YOU HAVE A CHANCE TO BE PRESIDENT

I don't see eye to eye on most public policy issues, and your decision to root for the Dallas Cowboys is at best regrettable. However, I come to you today with some honest advice your cadre of "yes" men and women seem unable to offer: Don't run

Have you looked at the latest polling data? I'm sure you think you can recapture those heady days when you were the Republican frontrunner and one of the most popular political figures in the country. Spoiler alert: You can't, especially considering it took Superstorm Sandy, an act of nature that you won't even admit climate change had a role in unleashing, to inflate your poll numbers.

According to the latest Fox News poll (your people), just 2 percent of likely voters said they would vote for you. That puts you in 11th place among Republican presidential candidates, and since Fox News is inviting just the 10 top finishers to its first debate in August, you seem destined for a place at the kids table of presidential politics.

At this point, when I Google "Chris Christie popularity" these are the adjectives I see: Plummeting, nosedived, record-low, cratered, humiliating. Should I go on? Even Voldemort, the Harry Potter villain who tried to murder a baby, has a higher favorability rating that you.

The numbers are even worse at home. In an April Quinnipiac University poll, 65 percent of New Jerseyans don't think you'd make a good president. You're even less popular in the Garden State than Jon "I lost $2 billion" Corzine. I would say these are the constituents who know you best, but as WNYC's Matt Katz notes, you've spent over 200 days out of New Jersey since being sworn in last year to a 2nd term.

Based on your travel time, residents in Iowa are among those who know you best, which is probably why you're polling at just 4.3 percent there among Republican Presidential candidates, according to the Real Clear Politics Average. And in case you didn't notice, that's Donald Trump who's polling ahead of you.

Even in New Hampshire, home of the first-in-the-nation primary where Republicans skew more moderate, you're in 7th place with the support of just 5 percent of voters, according to a new CNN/WMUR New Hampshire Primary Poll. And you seem to be getting desperate.

According to Paul Mulshine at the Star-Ledger, you've been pandering to voters in both states with your stand on ethanol. Back in March, you told Iowa voters (you know, the folks who sell ethanol) that you're in favor of expanded ethanol use. However, once you showed up in New Hampshire, you changed your tune, implying that you're against the national ethanol mandate.

You are aware voters in both states have access to Google, right?

It's not just ethanol. You've become a pandering, flip-flopping opportunist on common core, immigration, guns, climate change - even pig gestation crates, where the 9,000 or so in New Jersey are dwarfed by the 20 million in Iowa. Do you even remember telling GOP voters in South Carolina to be wary of flip-flopping presidential hopefuls just

Maybe that's why you felt the need to hide behind a bunker while braver politicians in your party, like Governor Nikki Haley, called on the state to remove the Confederate Flag from the South Carolina statehouse. It's not exactly the best YouTube clip, a loud-mouthed politician with a reputation of speaking bluntly afraid to stand up for his values out of fear

Maybe that's why Nikki Haley remains popular among South Carolina voters and an up-and-coming figure in your party, and you're defining moment as governor remains yelling at a heckler on the boardwalk while clutching an ice cream cone.

Most laughably, despite your history of tall-tales and outright mistruths, you chose "Telling it like it is" as your campaign slogan. I don't know who your campaign advisors are, but not even Rose Nylund of St. Olaf is gullible enough to buy that.

So my advice is not to run for president, stop making alternating trips to battleground states and the Tonight Show, and focus on doing the things you promised to do as governor. New Jerseyans are still waiting for you to balance the state's budget without gimmicks, come though on the state's obligations to the pension system and aid those still in need of help after Superstorm Sandy.

Who knows. If you're actually do the job you were elected to do, maybe Donald Trump would pick you as his running mate.

OBAMACARE RULING IS A CONSERVATIVE WIN

The dream of Richard Nixon, Ronald Reagan, Bob Dole, Newt Gingrich and Mitt Romney has now been realized. Their solution their idea for universal health care has been passed by both houses, signed by the president and upheld twice now by the Supreme Court. Yes, they call it Obamacare. Yes, they strangely call it socialism. But yes, it was their idea. And now it's here to stay.

Market-based mavens, you've got your way. Time for celebration! Also time to stop calling Obamacare a bill. It's a law now. It's been the law for four years. And it was always your law.

Passionately opposed to socialized medicine, President Reagan called for a mandatory health insurance program while governor of California. It was legislation that sounded, well, sound, but was never going to be law. It was the "abolish the Fed" position of its day.

But Reagan did supply socialized medicine to the poor. Prior to Reagan's presidency and his signing of the Emergency Medical Treatment and Active Labor Act (EMTALA), people with no means to pay could be turned away at hospitals. EMTALA was an unfunded mandate that led to astronomical health care costs over the next few decades. People who couldn't afford insurance got health care in the ER and those who could afford insurance footed the bill. Which is, you know, socialism. The solution was to have an individual mandate to purchase private health insurance. But again, that was never going to pass.

In fact for over 40 years spanning seven presidents, American health care got worse and more expensive. At this same time other industrialized nations improved upon single payer models and hybrids of private and public models. Americans' health care system devolved into a have and have not parable: Best in the world if you have money, worse than you could imagine if

Politicians assured us we had the best health care system in the world. With a major asterisk. In 2000, the World Health Organization ranked us as 37th in the world (Colombia was 22nd). We paid more for less. An illness could cause bankruptcy. Our health system was

But then came "change." In the original proposal by Obama, the Affordable Care Act included a public option, referred to as "Medicare you can buy into." This public option was wildly popular with doctors and supported generally by a majority of voters. It was a perfect way of creating competition in the market place, setting a bar for private insurance companies. It was also, as noted by its opponents, an easy transition into a single payer system, putting American health care on par with the rest of the industrialized world (and most emerging countries, too). But the public option died in the Senate, never making it into the final law.

The public option was dead. Now in this wake of this second Supreme Court decision upholding the existing compromised ACA law, the public option is cremated, buried and gone. There's no political will for Medicare for all. The allegedly super-liberal-commie plan is the twice-upheld-by-SCOTUS law of the land.

President Ulysses S. Grant recalled the moment he received the surrender letter from General Robert É. Lee and wrote in his memoir: "I felt like anything rather than rejoicing at the downfall of a foe who had fought so long and valiantly, and had suffered so much for a cause, though that cause was, I believe, one of the worst for which a people ever fought, and one for which there was the least excuse."

Grant refers to slavery as the worst cause for which people have fought. Conservatives vehemently fighting against their own idea—with no actual plan for its replacement other than the exact same plan with a different name—has to be the lamest cause for which people have fought. It's time to stop that now.

The battle is over. The public option will never happen. Take a victory lap, Republicans.

"America! God shed his (or her)

author Katharine Lee Bates

In Susan's column a couple weeks ago, she bemoaned the lousy week it had been - and you couldn't blame her. There was Donald Trump, who couldn't let the media attention on the GOP race go on any longer without him being the focus of it. Then there was the killing by Dylann Roof of nine parishioners at the Emmanuel AME Church in Charleston. Roof warned against blacks because "They rape our women". Trump warned that Mexico was sending 'rapists" across the border. One of them is running for president.

a week that could be regarded as one of the more successful of President Obama's second term, and one of the most transformational for our nation.

The week culminated with the president's eulogy for the Rev. Clementa Pinckney, a victim of the Charleston shootings. He focused on the subject of God's grace, what Katharine Bates wrote of in "America the Beautiful". It's something not wrecking the economy. The Court's decision came 'earned" or "deserved", the president explained, but something there all the same. The killer, the president said, "failed to comprehend what Rev. Pinckney so well understood – the power of God's Though Roof had intended his actions to start some sort of "race war", the president President Obama; from nearly 10% of our economy reminded that "God works in mysterious ways." The reaction brought thousands together in solidarity at Charleston and other black churches around the country, and a belated recognition that the Confederate flag has no place outside a museum. The president described it as "a reminder of systematic oppression and racial subjugation", and it's now coming down all over the country - including at the South Carolina statehouse.

But the president reminded we "can't settle for symbolic gestures", that we need to do the "hard work for more lasting change". It's not enough to have God's grace, the president said, "It is up to us now to make the most of it."

The week began with pundits predicting a crippling blow for the president, with even members of his own party turning against him to deny fasttrack authority on the Trans Pacific Partnership trade deal. Those Democrats had a sure-fire way of peeling off Republican support, as well. All they had to do was include a provision to help American workers whose jobs might be affected by the pact something they knew no Republican could accept - and they were right. In the end, though, the president got the authority he wanted – while signing into law the provision helping American workers as a separate measure.

The big news came through the Supreme Court. It affirmed that although we have the right to free speech, we don't have the right to express it Happy Fourth.

America! in a way implying state sanction – like putting the Confederate flag on a license plate. In another case out of Texas, the Court ruled that housing policies English professor that have a discriminatory impact are in fact discriminatory and wrong - regardless of whether somebody expressly stated an intent to go out and

> A major decision came Thursday when, after five years and over fifty votes by Republicans to do away with it, the Court affirmed that President Obama's Affordable Care Act, through which 16 million Americans now have coverage, bringing the lowest rate of uninsured since they started > keeping track, is here to stay. This wasn't about any Constitutional issue, but rather a last-ditch effort by opponents to scour the entire 11,000 pages for the slightest technicality they could build a case on. With the Court's decision, Republicans are no doubt relieved as they won't have to answer to the 8 million Americans who might have lost coverage had it gone the other way.

Their credibility, though, has already taken But wouldn't you know - right after came a hit. They'd warned Americans would lose what coverage they had before the ACA. According to a recent Rand study, 80% kept their insurers. They said private employers would stop offering insurance. According to the Rand study, the biggest gain in coverage has been through private employers.

They warned of it being a job-killer and a couple weeks after the Bureau of Labor Statistics reporting 12.6 million private sector jobs created over the past five years as the product of the longest streak (63 straight months) of job growth on record. Unemployment is at its lowest level in seven years. The budget deficit has been cut by two-thirds under to less than 3% of it.

Back in her day, Katherine Bates was what was known as a "spinster". She lived for 25 years with fellow Wellesley College professor (and Dean and Economics Department chair) Katharine Koman. Surviving letters attest to the immense love and devotion throughout the relationship, which ended with Koman's succumbing to breast cancer in 1915 (Bates died in 1929). In 2012, the organizers of LGBT History Month named Katharine Bates one of its LGBT history "icons".

In "America the Beautiful" she wrote of colors; "amber waves of grain", "purple mountain", "alabaster cities". Friday night, the White House was bathed in the colors of the rainbow. Earlier that day, the Supreme Court confirmed that although some still attempt to use "religion" as an excuse to practice bigotry, as a nation we no longer dictate who one can love - and who one can marry. As Stephen Colbert put it, "It's hard to believe gays achieved full constitutional personhood only five years after corporations did. The White House bathed in those colors seemed an affirmation of the call to "crown thy good with brotherhood (and sisterhood) from sea to shining sea." President Obama announced, "We've made our union a little more perfect." The president was being modest.

WHO HAS THE WORSE IDEA: OBAMA OR TRUMP?

There are some very stupid ideas emanating from powerful people and political wannabes.

From the powerful, President Obama wants to put welfare housing in wealthy neighborhoods as a tactic to "end poverty." He obviously wants to emulate the societal "success" of forced busing.

Let's apply common sense to the President's plan.

Obama wants to diversify neighborhoods requiring land within those neighborhoods be given to the federal government for the building of Section 8 housing. Some existing housing might be co-opted.

This would not be done through any abuse of eminent domain. No, there would be no constitutional adherence whatsoever. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) is ready to simply release new federal regulations that would use your tax money to overrule local zoning laws of over 1,200 communities.

If you live your life filled with hate for rich people, this is great news. If you love freedom and opportunity, this is an outrage.

Why would he do this? Because this is Barack Obama's vision of transforming America. Perhaps he has some idyllic sugar plum fairies dancing in his head creating wealth for those living in the Section 8 apartments.

The reality that escapes this president is that the people whose personal success allows them to afford expensive homes will move. The value of the properties will drop like it's 2008 again.

President Obama will likely disagree. Why? Magical thinking. One of the magicians behind this big government onslaught is Julian Častro. Castro is the current head of HUD and an architect of this plan. He is also reported to be a top candidate for Hillary Clinton's running mate. These three Democrats could create as much misery and poverty as the interstate highway system did to the cities it splintered.

Liberal Republicans can be just as damaging.

Donald Trump's brilliant idea is to stop U.S. companies from manufacturing goods in foreign countries by adding a 35 percent surtax to all U.S. companies' goods imported from their foreign manufacturing plants.

This idea is as short-sighted as

RICK JENSEN

The Donald's contributions to the disgraced Clinton Foundation. When Obama pushed for a similar plan, business executives took it seriously and made plans to incorporate their businesses overseas, knowing their goods would be unaffordable when punished by Obama-Trump's tax scheme.

The corporate tax rate is already as high as 35 percent. That's why Microsoft, GE, Apple and more companies that support Democrats are compelled to bank a combined $2 trillion in foreign banks.

The United States is the only advanced nation that taxes profits that domestic firms earn outside its borders, and liberals such as Obama think it's "not fair" that they keep reserves. So they try to come up with tax schemes that punish businesses whose employees work to keep the companies profitable.

Brilliantly, Obama has threatened to tax that money at a rate of 14 percent.

Brilliant, if you think GE and Microsoft should be Irish or Bahamian companies.

It's interesting to note in the Bloomberg Business News compilation of dozens of former U.S. companies relocating to foreign countries to avoid crushing U.S. taxes that over 90 percent of their executives still live in the U.S.

Serious policy makers would reduce the corporate tax rate and make it competitive with foreign markets to encourage businesses to bring the $2 trillion and thousands of jobs back to America. The problem seems to be politics. President Reagan's Tax Reform Act of 1986 lowered the top federal corporate income tax rate from 46 to 34 percent. From 1982-1986, the average unemployment rate was 8.2 percent. From 1987-1991, the average unemployment rate was 5.9 percent. Can any of today's self-successful Reagan policies or is their slogan, "country be damned!"? Rick Jensen is Delaware's

"At the Sierra Madre Playhouse, we strive to bring you wonderfully produced shows that tell of the American Experience. I promise that every show in our season will be one you won't want to miss — from comedies to dramas to musicals both heartfelt and toe-tapping and plays for youth which will inspire a life-long appreciation for theater. This will be a season to remember! To our loyal patrons, thank you for your support. For those who haven't been to our theater before or in a while, come see how we've grown. You'll be glad you did!"

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

The City of Sierra Madre

Subject: CITY COUNCIL CONSIDERATION OF URGENCY ORDINANCE 1366-U TO RESCIND THE URGENCY ORDINANCE 1360-U THAT ESTABLISHED AN INTERIM MORATORIUM ORDINANCE PURSUANT TO GOVERNMENT CODE SECTION 65858 ON THE DEMOLITION, IN PART OR IN WHOLE, OF SINGLE-FAMILY HOMES AND DUPLEXES THAT WERE CONSTRUCTED PRIOR TO A DESIGNATED DATE AND DECLARING THE URGENCY THEREOF

On July 14, 2015, the City Council will consider adoption of an Ordinance to rescind Ordinance No. 1360-U, an Urgency Ordinance of the City Council of the City of Sierra Madre, adopted on February 24, 2015 that established an Interim Demolition Moratorium and Ordinance pursuant to Government Code Section 65858, on the demolition, in part or in whole, of single-family homes and duplexes that were constructed prior to a designated date. Government Code 65858 a provision of State Planning and Zoning law authorizes an interim urgency zoning ordinance to prevent development related actions which may be inconsistent with a plan under development, such as the General Plan Update that would require amendments to the Demolition Ordinance and to the R-1 Zoning Ordinance. The Demolition Ordinance has been amended and was effective as of April 24, 2015. The R-1 Zoning Ordinance has also been amended and was effective as of June 11, 2015. Ordinance 1362-U would remain in effect until August 24, 2015, unless extended or rescinded by further action of the City Council. Urgency Ordinance No. 1366-U, if adopted, will rescind the demolition moratorium

All interested parties may attend this meeting and the City Council will hear them with respect thereto. If you have any questions, please contact the Planning and Community Preservation Department at 626-355-7138 and ask to speak to Vincent Gonzalez, Director of Planning and Community Preservation.

PLACE OF HEARING City of Sierra Madre City Council Chambers 232 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

City of Sierra Madre

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

The City of Sierra Madre

ADOPTION OF THE GENERAL PLAN UPDATE DOCUMENT -

GENERAL PLAN AMENDMENT 15-01 (GPA 15-01) AND CERTIFICATION OF FINAL ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT REPORT (FEIR)

Applicant: City of Sierra Madre Project Location: Citywide

The City Council will consider certification of the Final Environmental Impact Report (FEIR), adoption of the Findings of Fact and Statement of Overriding Considerations, and adoption of the General Plan Update document. Pursuant to Public Resources Code Section 21165 and the California Environmental Quality Act Guidelines (CEQA Guidelines) Section 15050, the City of Sierra Madre is the lead agency for the project.

General Plan Update

The City of Sierra Madre prepared a comprehensive update to its General Plan. The General Plan serves as the blueprint for the city and establishes goals, objectives, policies, and programs for the long-term physical development, quality of life, and public safety in the community. The General Plan includes a land use designation map that replaces the land use designation map associated with the 1996 General Plan. The horizon year for the General Plan Update is 2035 and the project area is defined by the city boundaries.

Environmental Impact Report (EIR) Certification (State Clearinghouse #2015051088)

A Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) was prepared for the City to assess potential environmental impacts of the General Plan Update and was made available and circulated for public review and comment, pursuant to the provisions of the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA). The DEIR examined environmental impacts for alternatives to the project as required by State law. The 45-day public circulation of the DEIR was from May 11, 2015 to June 24, 2015. The Planning Commission held a hearing on May 21, 2015 and recommended that the City Council consider the DEIR for the General Plan Update and all comment letters and responses as the Final EIR (FEIR). The FEIR, which includes Responses to Comments, Mitigation Monitoring and Reporting Program, Findings of Fact, and a Statement of Overriding Considerations, has been prepared to assess the potential environmental consequences of adoption and implementation of the General Plan Update. FEIR certification must occur prior to any action by the City Council on the General Plan Update.
